“ Wally J and family. We are so very sorry about the death of your beloved wife, our sister, dearest friend and my ma Alma. Our hearts grieve with you at this difficult time. Ma Alma was a very “special” lady, who touched so many lives in the surrounding areas. To know her is to love her. She loved so many and shared God’s Word of truth with anyone who would listen. I thank Jehovah that I listened to her. As a result, I had the grand privilege of loving and serving Jehovah alongside her for over 30 years. My mother, Ida Worthington grew up with her and her sisters. She too, benefited from being taught the truth by ma Alma, and they shared a close friendship for almost 90 years of their lives. They worked many days in the ministry together. We will all miss her until we see her again in the promised resurrection. In the meantime Wally J, we will be here to give you our support in any way possible. We love you and your family to life in paradise and forever...The Ricks and Worthington Families
