“ I'm still in disbelief... However we all that love the Lord have to meet our father one day. And now she is with her other beautiful family members that missed her.

Annie was always sweet to me since meeting her about 10 years ago... She shopped with me as well. My fondest memory of her is when we were at the same auction and she came a little after me..and I had just won the bid on the current table and buffet set that I have. And she found out I won it and came over to me and said.." You know that if I got here earlier I would have won that right". We both laughed.. She would periodically through the years ask me if I still had it.. And I said yes.. She said the same thing. You better be glad I didn't get there earlier... 😊 Every time I look at my set.. I think of her... Thanks for the memory Annie Mae... RIP...
