“ There aren't too many days that go by that I don't think about you Uncle Bud. I really and truly miss you. I haven't deleted your number from my phone, I guess to not see your name, solidifies the realness of it all. I still listen to Motown, because it reminds me of watching you work on cars when I was a kid, and also the party that Aunt Helen had for you a few years ago, and we danced the night away. I will miss you always, and whenever the time comes, we will meet again.
