He was a loving caring Man he did my plumbing 17 yrs. ago the town wanted to give me a hard time i wanted to give up . he said no you don't i'm keep working with this until we get it right . so he did. But the funny's thing was when Mr. Jenkins put a little rock under my pipe to lift it up .he said lets see what the town have to say about this. short story they passed it and i moved in two weeks later. he called to check on me if every thing was ok. that really touched me to know there are some out there that really cared. my heart goes out to the family. and my prayers as well to let ya'll know that God has gained a true caring and loving man. Shelia Harrison.
