“ My thoughts and prayers are with you and the family during this difficult time in your life. I know that God is too awesome and wise in his choosing and He never makes any mistake. As my heart aches for you and the family, my pain is small compared to yours but God will heal the broken, all the hurt, and pain.

I don't know any of you personally but we are all sister's and brother's in Christ. I was touched by the news interview and compelled to send you a message. As I am sure you don't understand now but Gods love is so deep for us, that He needed both your son's to add to His beautiful garden.

*They just out run us. They did what all christians must to do but only a little quicker. I am reminded of the words of the old hymn,.....
.....If when you give the best of your service, telling the world that the savior has come. Don't be dismayed when men don't believe you. He'll understand and He'll say " Well Done"..*

“ Dearest Sandra and Family, Words cannot express the sorrow and deep felt sympathy my heart feels for you. I have two sons as well and know the joy of having boys. Our loved ones are not ours to keep but on loan from God. When he is ready, he picks them like precious flowers from the beautiful garden of our lives whether we are ready or not. They now have beautiful wings and sit beside Jesus free from harm and pain. You will always be their Mother as they sweetly wait. May you find peace, love and comfort in all of God's Glory.

“ Omg, where do i begin? Deonta, we grew up together in church from baby years until now. You were always making me laugh and knew just how to cheer someone up when they were feeling down. You always had the right words to say. You were a great person inside and out, a great friend for nearly 13 years. I'll miss our conversations and random burst of laughter in church at just about anything. Praying for the strength of your family and friends Rest In Peace ????????? , see ya when i get there :)

“ I didn't know your boys but I have something in common with your family. I lost my son Eric Baggett 3 years ago in an accident. I feel your pain tonight! I know what you are going through, the only difference is you lost two pieces of your heart instead of one. Unless you have been through it you can't imagine the pain a mother goes through. The only thing that kept me sane is my relationship with Jesus Christ! I am praying for the family tonight that the Lord will give you a peace that passes all understanding. When I lost my son I felt like my life had ended! I would like to pass on some advice that still helps me deal with the loss of my son. Don't focus on what happened but think about all the good times you had together. Remember the things they said and those special moments you shared together. At first it is hard to do but continue to remember all the good in their lives and a sense and peace will come over you. Don't stop talking about them and remembering them daily! Only Jesus can fill that large hole you have in your heart right now. My heart truly hurts for you, Sending some love and comfort to you all.

“ Deonta. We met each other in MSEN years ago, but didn't become good friends until the end of our junior year. The time spent in your presence was wonderful and exciting. No one ever knew what you were going to do next. I remember a few months ago during class in MSEN I asked you why you were standing up and you quickly asked me why was I sitting down. I couldn't do anything but laugh. You was always able to put a smile on my face. The last time we were together was during our stay in Charlotte with MSEN. I cried because you, Mike, and Isaac were getting off of the bus in Bertie. It was the last day of MSEN for us seniors and I didn't know when we would see each other again. I'm glad I was able to say, "I love you.", and hug you for the last time. My Logan. You are missed and loved dearly. #NoLackingInLoganCity ! I love you homie ! <3
