“ Although we were first cousins our paths did not cross very many time over the years. Facebook allowed us to renew contact and share messages and photos. I wish there had been more. One thing I know to my joy and delight is that Vanessa was a woman of great faith and love. I am sure that her life touched the hearts of many with the love of God in Christ Jesus. To God be the Glory. Love to the family. Love to my cousins Gwinnett and Audrey. Hope to see you again soon.##imported-begin##Dr. Oliver Lee Trimiew, Jr.##imported-end##

“ This lady was a cherrished friend, confidant, mentor, soft shoulder and mother figure
Whose presence will surely be missed. I struggled with losing my own mother just over
Two months ago but today my faith and trust in our Lord and Savior is strong, realizing
His need for these caring souls is greater by his side than serving him on this earth.

As sad as I am to see her go, it gives me weeping comfort knowing my mother is surround
By loving friends and family.

I'm sad but God knows best. For this woman went to sleep a charitable giver and woke up an Angel. We love and miss you. Thank you for giving so much of yourself.##imported-begin##Daniel D Smith n family##imported-end##
