“ Please accept my condolences. Randy and I grew up in the Bronx together in the yellow building as everyone fondly referred to it. We recently reconnected on Facebook when he found out my brother John passed away. I don't think I every saw him without a smile on his face; and that's the way I want to remember him now, smiling down at us all.

“ Bro. Randy gave new meaning to the word "fight" for me. We as humans have a tendency to complain about small things, but I cannot imagine the amount of pain Bro. Randy was in. Yet he continued to come to church and do what he had to until his body would not allow. He was truly a solider! Rest easy Bro. Randy!

Praise the Lord Everybody!!!! Brother Randy was an inspiration to see in service. No matter how he felt he still found the strength to give God Praise. He will truly be missed. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord.

“ Bro we been hanging for years, we laughed together, worked together, hung together, you will truly be missed. Word's cannot express the heaviness in my heart, i was thinking about your laugh & smile the other day, and i just laughed so hard i started crying, cause i wont get that ever again. I will cherish the memories, until we meet again. R.I.P Randy B, you were an outstanding Man, father, Bro, Uncle, Husband Son. But most of all MY FRIEND...

“ Gonna miss you my brother. Even though you was in pain you still smiled. You and your wife beat the tambourine together and praise God together. And yet you smiled. Sleep in peace and no more pain

It's been 4 days since I lost my beloved husband. As I sat by his side week after week, day after day and watch him drift away. All I could do was pray and ask God to heal him. We always said in our old age that we would marry and we did. Our son is 31 years of age and we've always had that bond. He was my soul mate. I am torn apart, the pain is too much--Unbearable--The cross is so heavy. I miss him terribly. To some I may look okay, it's the Holy Ghost that keeps me and gives me strength to continue on. It is a long dark night and I know day will come again and I will be okay. It is only God who is sustaining me, our son, his mother Natalie and all the Beazer family. I thank everyone for their words of sympathy and prayers.
