My condolences to the family. Rozita was my classmate and friend. I remember her as always being pretty, quiet and kind. She was one of the nicest people I have ever known. I loved her dearly. Praying that God will give you the strength you need doing this difficult time. May He give you the peace you need.

“ There are no words that can describe the pain I feel in my heart right now. Not only did I lose an aunt, I lost a friend. As a child, my aunt Van was who I would write letters to telling about all the silly things I did and saw. Then as an adult I would call her on my long rides to or from work with my shenanigans. But there was nothing I enjoyed more than coming home and seeing her smiling face and having to fight with her for hugs and pictures. But I always got them because she wasn't really fighting me, she was just waiting for me to start hugging her and snapping my pictures. Even in her final days, I thanked and joked with her about all the hugs she was now giving me every time I helped her up out of and back into bed. And she would just laugh and say, "I hear you talking". But oh what I wouldn't do for just one more hug and picture. I'm sure gonna miss seeing her beautiful face at our family gatherings because no matter where they were, she found a way to make sure she was there.

Missing you so much already!

“ She was my beautiful little sister. She was always thinking, always wondering about something. She was smart and lovable. She loved her family and would do anything she could to help you. She never asked you for anything, she was independent and strong. To know her was to love her. I loved her and she knew it. She wasn't one to express her feelings but you knew loved you. She was a private person so she didn't share with the outside world what she was going through, she was a fighter. But most of all she knew God, so she fought until He gave her rest. Van you will be missed. I love you but God loved you best. Until we meet again. 🌹 ☐

“Somewhere beyond every problem, there will be peace. Somewhere after each heartache, suffering and sorrow will cease. Somewhere there’s going to be a bright tomorrow, you just wait and see. No more sickness or dying, nothing but joy for me.”
