“ I have known Sam for over 50 years. I consider him more like family than an employee. He was honest, reliable and tough as any man I have ever known. He was extremely loyal to me and his job, but his family always came first. I have told many that I consider him the best well driller in this state. He has successfully drilled and developed hundreds of wells for municipalities all over eastern North Carolina. His work will provide good, clean water for millions of North Carolinians for decades to come. I have told Sydney that I will not be able to attend the service because of this pandemic. This hurts my heart, but I know Sam would understand. Rest in peace my friend.
