“ As always Rabbit is like a brother to me and will always be. As a kid he taught me to drive his car while sitting in his lap. I would help him wash his car sometimes on Saturdays with the hope he would take me with him that afternoon even though I was too young (LOL). After helping Rabbit wash his car, I would run home to take a quick bath, put on my clothes, then I would sit on my front porch waiting for Rabbit to come outside.

Looking back into time now I smile, realizing he saw me and understood what I was doing.... Rabbit would get into his car, start it up and drive past my home very slowly and would wave at me. I would be disappointed however I would start planning for the next Saturday. LOL

I never realized how important not telling him my story until now. I will forever cherish that memory because Rabbit loved and treated me like a bother.

I hate to see Rabbit leave us however I know he isn't hurting any longer. I can see Rabbit with "THAT" smile on his face waiting for us to join him.

Love you all family.
