“ Michelle and Michael, I have many childhood memories of Woody. He was truly a free spirit. We were next door neighbors and grew up in the church which was only a few steps away from our back doors. He gave so much of himself to us young kids in the (the "Hill") neighborhood. We all were blessed to grow up like family looking out for one another. We reflect and honor his memory. God Bless!

Edna Barnes - August 04, 2022 at 05:39 PM

Thank you so much for sharing your happy memories with us, Edna. My dad was so fond of those early Conway days. Michael and I have visited the "Hill" many times, but hearing people talk about the family-community there from years ago brings the place alive in a whole new way. We so enjoy these new memories about our dad. God Bless you and your loved ones!

Sending my condolences to the entire family. Mr. Flythe was one of my elementary school teachers. He was a lot of fun in the classroom. Praying for the family 🙏

“ My father was incredibly proud of all his friends and family. He often spoke of the extraordinary and everyday things people would do to show they cared about him. I know he would want nothing more than for you to think of him and smile from time to time and to live long happy lives, just as you helped to make sure his life was long and happy. Be blessed. -- Michelle and Michael, his children

“ Woodrow Flythe was a mentor to many young people who lived on the "Hill" in Conway, North Carolina, in the 60s. A teacher, he inspired us to seek higher education. As a neighborhood leader, he encouraged us to play sports. During summer school breaks, he organized softball teams. We played, had fun, and learned the rules of the game. Because of the opportunity to play sports during the summer, I played softball, basketball, and was a member of the school's drill team in high school. May you rest in peace Woodrow Flythe!

*Thank you for your kind words, Jennifer! That is such a beautiful memory to share. Our father often spoke fondly of his days teaching, and he was so proud of his students. Thank you again and be blessed.
